

YOUR DREAM ROOM

You and your partner will have your own private room with an overstuffed, comfy, King sized bed. Your room is classy, comfortable and the perfect environment to create a romantic atmosphere during the Dream Relationship Workshop.

There are exciting exercises that take place in the privacy of your room from the Dream Relationship Workshop. These exercises give you an opportunity to create and improve intimacy in your relationship.

Although, we strive to make your experience fun, exciting and memorable, the entire experience is certainly not about being comfortable. You will be exposed to exercises in communication and you will get a very clear picture of your relationship Point A. The Dream Relationship Workshop requires a shift in your mindset and an open, honest attitude.

Please come prepared. It is recommended you bring a pen and personal journal to support you in learning.

A Journey to love...

MICHELLE SHELTON, CEO, AUTHOR, COACH, FACILITATOR

"My husband Paul and I knew each other for four months when we got married in 1989. Through the years we have experienced difficult pregnancy, financial strain, sickness, death of parents and the murder of a dear friend. We moved ten times in the first ten years of marriage and had five children. We have had teenagers act out and make life altering choices in their lives that we saw as detrimental. Through it all, we have learned to love. We have learned to love ourselves and love each other. We continue to walk the path of marriage and love and create our way. You are invited to join us for an intense workshop that will give you tools that saved our marriage. Some are fun. Some are not. All of them will give you greater insight into your own life and that of your relationship. Not just the relationship with your partner. Relationships with family, friends and coworkers. This is an opportunity for you to create several dream relationships." - Michelle

PAUL SHELTON, CFO, FACILITATOR

"When I met my wife, I had a sense that I would marry her. I wanted a family. It happened very fast and I had made some immature choices. Getting married quickly meant I had to grow up fast. I nearly always worked two jobs to support our growing family. We have gone to retreats and seminars over the years to keep our love alive. In 2007 we were struggling to stay together and we attended an experiential seminar that gave us tools to save our failing marriage. Our marriage is better than it has ever been. We have taken all of these experiences and teachings and expanded on them to bring you a profound experience in our Dream Relationship Workshop.

The Workshop idea came about because a workshop typically involves tools, focus, and good 'Ol hard work. In a workshop the worker creates and builds something brand new. You have an opportunity to reset the clock of your relationship and do something different for improved results.

You are about to embark on an amazing weekend of awareness that may lead you to a life of many enriched relationships if you choose.

If you want more sexual intimacy, a deeper understanding and more excitement in your relationship, this is the place to be! The tools Michelle and I have put together will rock your world and support you in creating your dream relationship!"
